What's New with NBFE?

Medical Marijuana and Emotional Support Animal Webinars Now Available "On Demand"

NBFE recently broadcasted two webinars on timely, cutting-edge topics relevant to both clinical and forensic mental health professionals. These webinars were popular and well-intended, and we received several requests to make them available as "on demand" trainings. You've asked, and we've delivered. If you missed either training event, click on a webinar title below to access "on demand" registration pages:

Opportunity to Further Establish Yourself as a Forensic Expert

One way to build your CV and further establish yourself as a forensic expert is to document presentations conducted for national organizations on forensic and/or mental health-related subject matter. NBFEE is providing one such opportunity by calling on CFMHEs to submit proposals for webinar presentations. Click here to submit a proposal.

NBFE Recognizes Key Contributors

NBFE would like to offer special recognition to two very special members of our team for their outstanding contributions to our mission.

Dr. Tom Black has generously donated countless hours of time to teach NBFE's infamous testing workshop series, which provides forensic mental health professionals with 40 hours of quality training in administering and interpreting psychological tests commonly used in forensic evaluations.

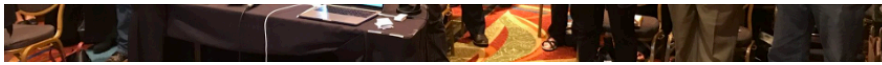

Thanks, Tommy!

Valentino Travieso has volunteered extensively to perform support services to NBFE's board and executive director, as well as applicants, candidates, and NBFE members. Thanks, Valentino!

Support NBFE in Its Mission of Quality Training, Certification, and Advocacy

NBFE is a grassroots organization founded by Dr. Norman Hoffman in 2003 so that there would be a national, reputable, quality organization that did not exclude mental health professionals who aren't psychologists or psychiatrists from the forensic arena, and we can't do this important work without your support. Please consider making a small, tax-deductible donation to NBFE, or consider becoming a "contributing member."
