

What's New with NBFE?

Free Internet Peer-to-Peer Consultation for all CFMHEs!

NBFE provides a discussion forum on our website at www.nbfe.net. Simply log in, click on "Resources," and then "Topics & Discussions Forum." You can post an inquiry by clicking on "create topic." We also encourage you to "subscribe" to the forum so that you receive email notification when a new inquiry has been posted. This feature is an excellent resource to tap into the collective experience, insight, and knowledge of your peer CFMHEs when you have a question related to forensic mental health evaluation.

Stay Updated Through NBFE Social Media

NBFE is now on Facebook and Twitter. Like us on Facebook or follow us on Twitter to see postings related to the field of forensic mental health evaluation.

What Do You Want from NBFE in 2017?

NBFE created a survey a few months ago that enables our CFMHEs, applicants, and candidates to indicate what topics they would like NBFE to provide training on in 2017. Thus far, we have collected 27 responses, and our goal is to collect at least 50 responses. If you haven't done so already, please complete the survey by clicking here. It only takes about 5 minutes and will be very helpful in determining our 2017 training schedule.

Tell Your Colleagues About our Online Certification Training Opportunities!

For the first time in NBFE history, NBFE will be broadcasting a live certification training event nationwide for mental health professionals who wish to pursue the CFMHE credential. On Thursday, 2/2/17, NBFE will be presenting at the Florida Mental Health Counselors Association annual conference in Orlando, FL. Applicants in Florida can attend the event in-person, but applicants in other states can now attend online and can register online. Click here for more info. We are finalizing training programs in Savannah, Georgia, Washington, D.C., and Tampa, Florida for 2017 as well, so stay tuned for more.

Happy Holidays!
